the interest on their public debts have not made a single movement to bring about so desirable an object. Not the movement to bring shout so desirable an object. Not the first feasible plan has been proposed, and the terms are rapidly wearing away without meeting the most impor tant question before them boldly and reselutely. A bill has been introduced into the upper house of the legislature of Indiana, relative to the State debt. It is little what it is.

legislature of Indiana, relative to the State debt. It is proposed by the committee introducing the resolution, to fund the principal of the publib debt and one year's interest, making the total sum of $13,907,320. This amount to be taken up by an issue of new bonds, bearing three per cent. Interest, the interest payable annually, and the principal after the expiration of thinty years. The annual interest on the debt thus funded would be $417,219, to which add the annual expenses of the State, about $75,000, and the sum of $492,219 would be required each year. To raise this amount it would only be necessary to assess thirty cents on each hundred dollars of taxable property, which would produce $346,770, to which add preperty, which would produce $346,770, to which add one dollar on each poll, and the sum of $464,306 would one dellar on each poll, and the sum of $464,306 would be produced. To this add the other resources, amounting to at least $100,000, making a total of $564,306. The committee remark, with a great deal of truth, that the debt of the State is new within the control of their resources, and unless something is immediately done to arrest the accumulation, it will eventually reach an amount beyond a possibility of liquidating. All these propositions may seem feasible, but we have little hope of their being adopted, and if adopted, of being enforced and carried out. Every calm observer of the nature of our State institutions, must have long since become convinced, that the people, having the power in their own hands, will not submit to heavy taxes; they will submit to any thing but that burden. The representatives of the people are not so much to blame as may appear; they act as their constituents advise, and in all cases govern themselves accordingly. It is easy enough to pass laws, levying taxes, but it is difficultite enforce these laws; and, if onerous, the people send representatives to repeal them.

these laws; and, if onerous, the people send representatives to repeal them.

It is supposed by many, that the interest on the public debt of Pennsylvania, due in February, will be paid in full, in cash; while others feel as confident that it will not. It is now a mere matter of opinion and speculation, and depends entirely upon the view takes of the question by the executive of that State. So far as our facilities of forming an opinion upon the subject go, we think the interest, due in F. bruary, will not be paid in cash; and we are led into this belief, from the fact that Governor Shurk is opposed to any premature movement in the nor Shunk is opposed to any premature movement in the premises, and will not, so tar as he is concerned, per

The legislatures of New York, Pennsylvania, Mary land, and Massachusetts will soon be in session, when we shall be able to arrive at something definite in rela tion to the debts of the two de linquent States.

A committee of the Georgia Legislature have reported that $20,000 of the debt of that State has been paid off, and that as soon as exchange fails, a similar sum will be paid. A proposition was also acceded to, to pay now the interest due next September on the six per cent

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of Illinois, in relation to the Illinois and Michigan Canal, and the State debt. This movement is made without know-ing the result of Col. Oakley's present visit to Europe ing the result of Col. Caktey's present visit to Europe. The success of his mission is, however, so doubtful, that there is not much danger of his operations conflicting with any that the legislature may make. We annex the principal features of this bill:—

lst. A company to be incorporated with sufficient capital to complete the canal, and upon as liberal terms as is consistent with the interests of the State, and the security of the inhabitants.

22d. The company within a reasonable time to deliver up to the State all its bonds and other evidences of indebtup to the State all its bonds and other evidences of indebtedness.

3d. The State on its part, upon such delivery of its bonds and other evidence of indebtedness to said company, give canal, with all the work; that has been done thereon, and the machinery, fixtures and other property belonging to, or connected with the same, and to convey to said company by ansolute grant, all the lands belonging to the State, whether canal, railroad, or those received by the State under the distribution act; and also all the debts due the State for that portion of said lands which have heretofore been sold by said State.

4th. The State to surrender to said company all the railroad or parts of railroads owned by the State, with the iron depots and other property belonging to the same; Provided that the company shall not be compelled to complete said railroads or any part thereof, unless they choose so to do.

oth. The company to elect, wi him a reasonable time, whether they will abandon or complete said railroads, or any part thereof, or what part they will abandon or surrender to the State.

6th. The company to retain in any event, the iron an

BY THE SOUTHERN MAIL.

Important from Washington. Our accounts from Washington are very unfa orable to the annexation of Texas. The unofficial meeting, on Saturday night, of the "democracy" of both Houses, turned out a failure. The liques of the two roses are by no means composed. Every thing is in a state of confusion. The cliques will probably fight it out in Congress. Trouble is ahead.

[Correspondence of the Herald.]

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Dec. 29, 1844.

The Annexation Caucus—The Herald Express from New Orleans to New York.

The caucus of democratic members, held last evening, at the Capitol, to unite upon a plan for the annexation of Texas, resulted in nothing. There were but few in attendance, owing to their absence from the city, in the enjoyment of the holidays with were but few in attendance, owing to their absence from the city, in the enjoyment of the holidays with their families, and the untiring zeal of a member from Alabama, quenched the efficient action and decision of the few who were present. Long speeches in caucus are worse than long sermons in August, and the effect upon members or the audience is not salutary. Another meeting will be held this week, when joint resolutions comprising the principles of those presented by Judge Douglass of lilinois, and a portion of Mr. Weller's of Ohio, will be adopted.

The extraordinary enterprise announced by you a few days since of running an express from New Orleans to New York, forty eight hours in advance of the mail, has caused the greatest excitement in the Post Office Department in this city, and no doubt will prompt more energetic action than has been heretofore evinced, but nothing can be accomplished by the department that will equal your arrangements. The commercial community of New York and the East, will be much benefitted, and the intelligence thus communicated to Europe in advance of the New York press, will establish an additional laurel to your fame as the Stateman editor of the present age.

Both Houses convents to morrow, as well as the Supreme Court, but nothing of interest will transpire until after New Year's Day.

The Inauguration Ball-The Ladies-Their Posi-

DRAR GRARRAL:—
There is the veritable old Harry to pay in regard of that inauguration ball, 4th March next. The democratic associations, the fives, and the aristocracy, at the head of the ten dollar concern, are at open war. The associations assume that they bore the brunt of the fight and are entitled to the glory of the triumph—that $5 is high enough—that the $10 affair was originated by office-holders who the $10 affair was originated by office-holders who were fence men during the battle, and jumped over at the turn of the tide, shouting hosannahs for Polk and Dallas, and they further say that before ten days shall elapse the position of the two porties (the fives and the tens) for the ball will be fairly understood. Very good—we go for the fives from sympathy—we incline to the tens (if legitimate) for the sake of an unparalleled exhibition of La Polka, beauty, grandeur and magnificence, and theselwe understand are to be the order of the day. What next!

The fives take exception to our declaration that, if the tens go ahead, said fives will have to advertise for ladies. We open our lacket beaux into office, or to retain them in office, or to be in favor at the White House, or to be considered at all as advocates of an Independent Treasury the fives to the disadvantage of the tens.

If there is not some compremise between the fives and the tens before ten days, there will be a clear division. The tens, we understand, had a meeting to night, but the result is not known to us.
The numerous whigs on their list are particularly obnoxious to the fives. Finally, we hear that the fives have secured a house full of the most beautiful ladies in the Union, all friends of annexation, and all opposed to the tens; the tens, we think,
will hang out the white flag, if the fives are discreet.

DUEL.—The Galveston News of the 10th instant relates (says the N. O. Picayune) the particulars of a duel, ought at the navy yard at that place on the sth, between Lieuts.
